Building hotel systems from real operational problems

SOLUNEX Co., Ltd. develops hotel technology under the FlowHub brand. The company is grounded in the founder's nearly 30 years of hotel experience and a practical understanding of both professional operating standards and the constraints hotel teams face every day.

Five-star hotel operating standards should be accessible to properties of different sizes — and practical enough to use every day.

Our operating principle

Understand the workflow

Start with the steps people actually perform.

Reduce complexity

Reduce unnecessary screen switching and duplicate work.

Improve continuously

Evolve through feedback and real operational problems.

02 / THE ECOSYSTEM

One ecosystem for the complete hotel operation

FlowHub brings hotel management, room sales, pricing and inventory distribution, and direct booking into one connected view. Teams can work continuously across functions while management gains faster access to the information that matters.

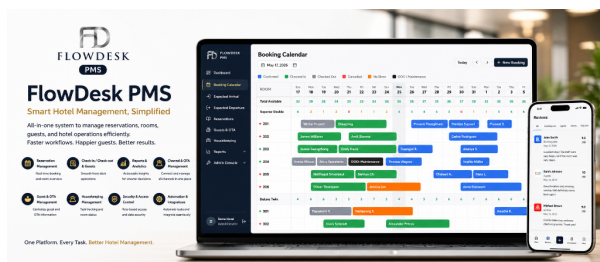

FlowDesk PMS

Reservation, Front Office, Housekeeping, Folio, Payment, AR, and Reports

Flow Channel Manager

Central control of rates, availability, and OTA sales status

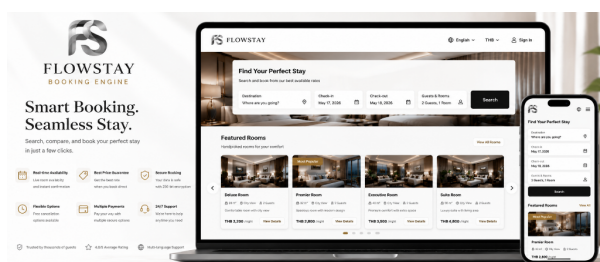

FlowDesk PMS

Reservation, Front Office, Folio, Payment, Tax Invoice, and Reports in one workflow — helping reduce screen switching and duplicate work.

Flow Channel Manager

Control pricing, occupancy, room availability, OTAs, and rate plans according to the property's rules, while helping reduce overbooking risk.

FlowStay Booking Engine

Create a direct booking channel where guests can search, compare, and book directly with the property.

03 / FOUNDER PERSPECTIVE

Real operational experience is where the products begin

Sathit Nunpan has nearly 30 years of experience in the hotel industry and has worked with a range of PMS and Channel Manager systems. That experience built a practical understanding of both professional standards and the friction hotel teams face in real operations.

FlowHub therefore does not begin with the question, “What feature should we add?” It begins with two practical questions: “Where are people getting stuck?” and “How can the team resolve real problems faster when they occur?”

“A good system works when people need it.”

From experience

Professional standards

Understand hotel operations at a professional level.

Agility

Reduce steps that slow the team down.

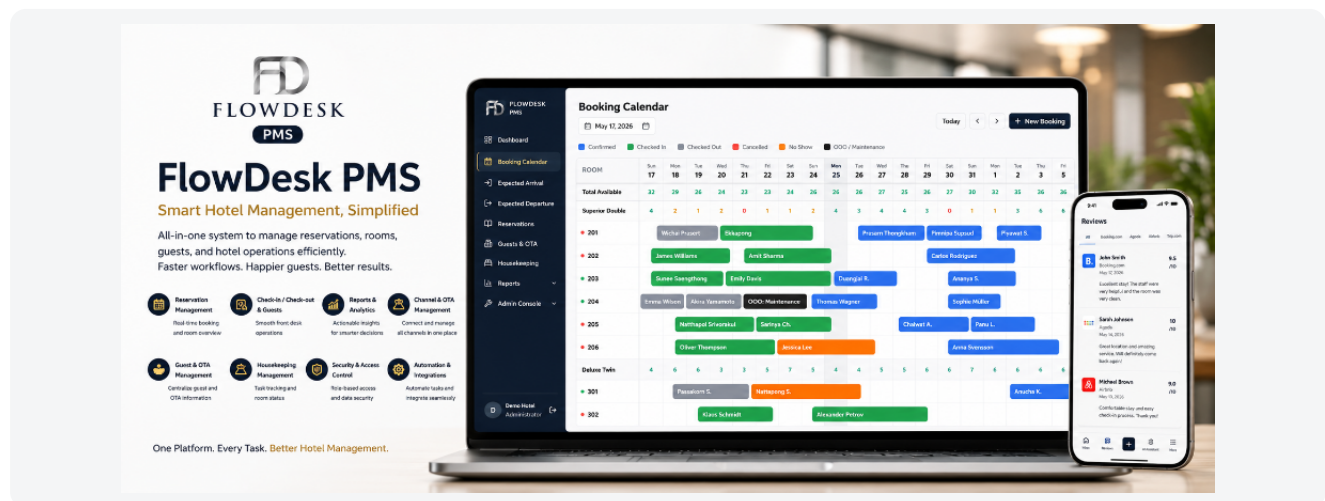

Continuity

Improve through real usage and feedback.

FlowDesk PMS

Five-star operating standards in a format hotel teams can use in practice.

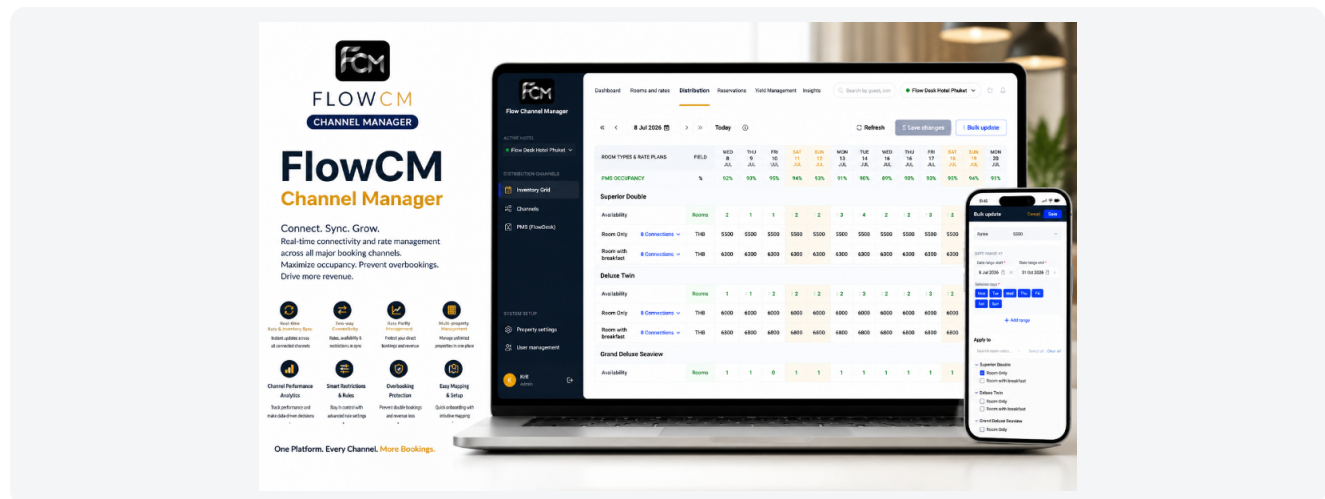

Designed from the real user perspective

- Reservation and Booking Calendar in one connected view.
- Front Office, Check-in, Check-out, Guest Folio, and Payment.
- Tax Invoice, Housekeeping, Accounts Receivable, and Reports.
- A cloud workflow designed for continuous, agile teamwork.

Flow Channel Manager

More than rate distribution: a central tool for revenue and inventory management.

- Adjust pricing according to the occupancy rules set by the property.
- Stop selected OTAs or rate plans when availability is low.
- Set an emergency stop-sell rule when only the final room remains.
- Reduce overbooking risk and the need to watch multiple screens.

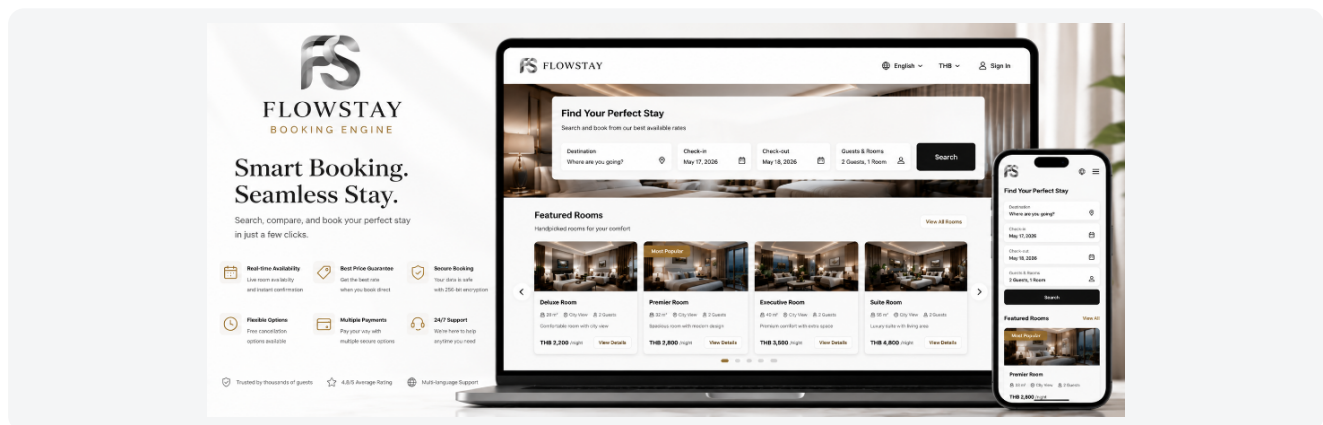

Connect. Sync. Grow.

Keep online rates and sales status aligned with the property's commercial strategy.

06 / EXTEND THE ECOSYSTEM

Extend the guest journey from direct booking to on-property spending

When direct booking and hotel operations work together, the property gains a connected view from pre-arrival and in-stay activity through payment and post-stay analysis.

FlowStay

BOOKING ENGINE

A direct booking engine for the hotel website, helping guests search, compare, and book naturally while creating a direct booking channel shaped around the property.

Flow POS

HOTEL F&B OPERATIONS

A system for hotel restaurants, cafés, and bars, designed to connect spending records with the PMS according to the defined integration model.

Every guest touchpoint should help the hotel team move faster — from room search and direct booking to closing the final spending record.

We do not build systems merely to be “complete”. We build them to work in practice.

FlowHub is grounded in an understanding of Thai hotel workflows and designed from the perspective of real users: owners, managers, Front Office, Reservations, Housekeeping, Accounting, and leadership teams.

01

Understand the workflow before adding features

Start with real problems between departments, not with the longest possible feature list.

02

Reduce screen switching and duplicate work

Important tasks should flow naturally, with the right information close to the decision point.

03

Make management numbers visible

Reports and hotel status information should help teams decide faster, not merely store data.

04

Support properties of different sizes

Professional operating standards should not be limited to large hotels.

05

Improve continuously through real usage

When operational constraints appear, improvements should be systematic and clearly communicated.

Designed from real hotel experience.
Built for better hotel operations.

Talk hotel systems with people who understand real operations

We welcome conversations about hotel workflows, system demonstrations, migration planning, and practical integration with existing systems for each property.
